For the past three years, the Georgia Music Educators Association (GMEA) has hosted the statewide Music Technology Student Showcase.

Brookwood has been represented exceptionally well with compositions earning "Best in Show," the equivalent of an individual state title win) the last two years. (Isaac Baquerizo, 2019 and Sebastian Soler, 2020).

This school year, 13 works were chosen out of 115 blind judged submissions with Brookwood taking four out of eight spots in the main category. The works will be featured as part of the GMEA State Convention at the end of January. The event will be hosted at Tweed Recording Studios in Athens and "Best in Show" will be announced at the performance.
